

Insights

Global Asset Tracing and Recovery Team Examines Whether the EU Has Made Cross-Border Asset Preservation Easier

June 9, 2017

Publication: Law 360

Delinquent judgment debtors, beware: Under a new European Union regulation, the European Account Preservation Order promises to harmonize protective account measures across much of Europe, making it easier for creditors to trace and recover funds. Members of our international judgment enforcement team, spanning the U.S., Europe and the Caribbean, explore the implications for litigants.

The article, "Has EU Really Made Cross-Border Asset Preservation Easier?," can be read here.