Asset Recovery Efforts in Korea: What You Need to Know

September 26, 2016

Publication: The Asset Tracing and Recovery Review, 4th edition

Former federal prosecutor, Michael S. Kim, along with other members of the firm's Korea disputes team, Robin J. Baik and S. Nathan Park, discuss special considerations for tracking and recovering assets in Korea in the latest edition of The Asset Tracing and Recovery Review. The authors examine current developments related to asset recovery in Korea, including the legal rights and remedies available in the jurisdiction, asset seizure and evidence gathering, recovery in the context of fraud, and jurisdictional cooperation in cases with international aspects.
