

Kobre & Kim Lawyers Contribute to Getting the Deal Through: Enforcement of Foreign Judgments, 2015

October 10, 2014

Publication: Getting the Deal Through

Kobre & Kim has contributed to the Cayman Islands and Hong Kong chapters of the 2015 edition of Getting the Deal Through: Enforcement of Foreign Judgments. James Corbett QC and Pamela Mitchell co-authored a chapter on the enforcement of foreign judgments in the Cayman Islands, exploring the common law provisions and principles the country provides in aid of the enforcement of foreign judgments. Randall Arthur and Gabrielle Liu also analyzed in the Hong Kong chapter the key issues concerning enforcing foreign judgments in Hong Kong, including relevant regulations and conventions, types of enforceable order, defenses, and judicial requirements.

Practitioners will benefit from the authors' insights into the varying procedures and strategies for judgment enforcement in these two jurisdictions. Click on the links below for the full chapters.
