

Insights

Kobre & Kim Analyzes Korean Government's Attempts to Find and Seize Assets Hidden Abroad

September 3, 2014

Publication: Wall Street Journal

If a debtor hides assets in the United States, what remedy would the Korean government, or international creditors in a similar situation, have available to find and seize the assets? The firm's Korea team examines the Korean government's attempt to chase hidden assets abroad as a result of sinking passenger ferry, Sewol.

To read the full article, click here: <http://blogs.wsj.com/korearealtime/2014/09/03/how-seoul-can-pursue-ferry-familys-assets-in-us/>.