

News

Many of our engagements involve matters in which our clients face significant public attention. The following is a list of news stories about the firm, our clients, cases and the results we have achieved.

Clients Rank Kobre & Kim a Top Firm for White-Collar and Commercial Litigation in The Legal 500 UK

October 12, 2017

Publication: The Legal 500 UK

The Legal 500 UK again this year ranked Kobre & Kim as a leading firm for white-collar and commercial litigation. The firm's former U.S. prosecutor-led government enforcement defense team is described as "superb in cross-border cases" and as having "a good reputation for strong, commercial advice in a difficult practice area." London-based former U.S. Department of Justice prosecutor Roger Burlingame is recognized as "a great communicator who is smart, strategic and has a great manner with clients."

For commercial disputes, clients describe our team as providing "quick responses and a practical approach." Andrew Stafford QC is distinguished as "well versed in the law and a high-quality advocate in court." Simon Cullingworth and James Corbett QC are also recognized.