Publishers of Global Arbitration Review Recognize Kobre & Kim's Global Asset Recovery Team

June 30, 2017

Publication: Who's Who Legal

The publishers of the Global Arbitration Review have recognized 15 Kobre & Kim lawyers as premier asset recovery practitioners. "International fraud specialist firm Kobre & Kim achieves five listings in the offshore jurisdictions in this year's research highlighting the firm's impressive coverage," notes Who's Who Legal, which ranks the world's pre-eminent firms for asset recovery.

The publishers recognize Rebecca Hume, based in the Cayman Islands, for her "significant experience assisting international counsel in fraud disputes and enforcement" and describe her as an "extremely user-friendly practitioner." Firm co-founder Michael Kim is acclaimed as "a highly rated litigator known for his proficiency in high-stakes, international disputes involving fraud and insolvency with related asset forfeiture and recovery aspects." Citing her "impressive practice," clients describe New York-based Carrie Tandler as "a creative, collaborative and client-friendly lawyer." Finally, the "superb" Randall Arthur, an offshore practitioner, is described as being "particularly proficient when handling disputes involving the offshore jurisdictions."

The following lawyers were ranked:

- Randall Arthur
- Jalil Asif QC
- Robin Baik
- Kimberly Cole
