

News

Many of our engagements involve matters in which our clients face significant public attention. The following is a list of news stories about the firm, our clients, cases and the results we have achieved.

Jason Kang and Jian Wu Examine Cross-Border Complexities Facing High-Net-Worth Individuals on AABANY Panel

April 1, 2024

High-net-worth individuals and their advisors are facing increasing risks and complexities as they navigate a changing global political and economic environment. Kobre & Kim's Jason Kang and Jian Wu discuss during an event hosted by the Asian American Bar Association of New York (AABANY) in the New York office of JAMS at 6:00 pm on April 11, 2024.

The discussion, "Navigating Legal Complexities For High Net Worth Individuals," will examine China-U.S. cross-border asset protection, taxation, trusts, equity disputes and government investigations. The speakers will also discuss practical perspectives and strategic approaches tailored to the unique challenges faced by high-net-worth individuals in cross-border transactions.

Mr. Wu will give a welcoming address, and Mr. Kang will be joined on the panel discussion by moderator Chris Kwok of JAMS; Christine Hou of Peter Kimmelman Asset Management LLC; Jiang Liu of Morrison & Foerster; Pang Zhang-Whitaker of Carter Ledyard & Milburn; and Hardy Zhou of Feingold & Alpert. CLE credit is available.

Click here to learn more about the event.