John Han and Dan Saval Share Expert Insights on Private Credit Enforcement in 9fin Webinar

July 15, 2025

Kobre & Kim's John Han and Dan Saval joined leading voices in the private credit space for a recent webinar hosted by 9fin, titled "When things fall apart — private credit enforcement from New York to Hong Kong"

As global enforcement specialists, Mr. Han and Mr. Saval shared their perspectives on key challenges and strategies in today's private credit market. They discussed cross-border approaches for creditors seeking to recover distressed or defaulted investments, emphasizing the importance of identifying and pursuing assets across multiple jurisdictions. They also explored how investors can navigate complex enforcement scenarios involving debtors with global footprints, and examined emerging trends in litigation and arbitration within the private credit landscape.

With private credit continuing to grow as an asset class, enforcement and recovery are becoming increasingly critical. The panel, which included seasoned legal and financial professionals, explored how investors can protect their positions when deals turn south.
