Kobre & Kim's John Han will be speaking at Informa Connect's upcoming Asset Recovery Asia conference, taking place from May 20-22, 2025, in Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam.

Mr. Han will participate in the session titled "Whose Fault is This Anyway? Liability for Fraud," where he will join a panel of experts to examine complex questions surrounding liability in cases where fraud is alleged, particularly within the context of insolvency. The discussion will delve into scenarios where companies, directors, or unrelated third parties may be held accountable for misconduct by debtors across different jurisdictions. The panel will also explore how claimants can identify alternative litigation targets and how defendants can mitigate the risk of inadvertently assuming liability for third-party actions. This session promises to provide valuable insights for professionals navigating fraud-related claims in high-stakes, multijurisdictional insolvency proceedings.
