Kobre & Kim Co-Sponsors CFAAR Event on Crypto Investigation and Insolvency Challenges and Successes

October 4, 2023

Cryptocurrency fraud and asset recovery is an increasingly active litigation space – crypto class action lawsuits are up, a number of major crypto platforms have filed for bankruptcy and government regulators and enforcers are investing more resources in this area. To discuss all this and more, Kobre & Kim, Bennett Jones, FTI and Chainalysis will co-sponsor CFAAR North America's Fall event at Chainalysis' New York office at 3:00 pm, October 12. Kobre & Kim's Jonathan Cogan, who focuses on high-stakes civil litigation and government enforcement defense matters, will also speak on a panel on successes and trends in crypto litigation and insolvency.

Starting with an afternoon of panel discussions, the event will be followed by a cocktail hour and networking reception. The panels are:

Crypto Litigation and Insolvency Challenges: Success Stories and Trends

Crypto Investigation Management – Best Practices for Supporting Civil Litigation Strategies

The event will be at Chainalysis' New York office at 114 5th Ave, 18th Floor, New York, New York.

Kobre & Kim co-founded the North American chapter of CFAAR, the Crypto Fraud and Asset Recovery Network, in 2022. The network brings together industry-leading professionals from the world of blockchain, digital asset development and decentralized finance for dynamic conversations on challenges and opportunities in this space.
