Shuan Wu and Nan Wang Discuss How U.S. Counterparties Can Prepare for Joint Venture Disputes as US-China Deals Multiply

June 28, 2016

Publication: Law360

In an article published in Law360, Shaun Wu and Nan Wang address this trend as well as the steps U.S. parties can take to prepare and minimize the risk of disputes during joint ventures with Chinese parties by, for example, structuring a well-designed exit strategy. Drawing from their experience in cross-border disputes, the lawyers also provide counsel on how U.S. counterparties can handle a dispute should one arise, including selecting an effective forum and exploring offshore relief options.
