Danielle Rose regularly serves as lead counsel in high-stakes commercial disputes, often involving major financial institutions and/or institutional investors. Ms. Rose has extensive experience in litigating matters related to complex financial products such as residential mortgage-backed securities and similar structured products, as well as related to corporate governance, including in advising boards of directors with respect to shareholder demands. Ms. Rose also regularly litigates M&A, joint venture and partnership disputes.

Prior to joining Kobre & Kim, Ms. Rose practiced at Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz, where she represented clients in complex commercial and securities disputes, including M&A matters, and in government regulatory investigations.

After law school, Ms. Rose clerked for the Honorable Leonard B. Sand of the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York.
