Ed Llewelyn-Evans specializes in resolving complex cross-border commercial and corporate disputes, including fraud litigation, joint venture and shareholder disputes and international judgment enforcement.

Ed regularly represents ultra-high-net-worth individuals, as well as corporate clients in sectors including banking, private equity and commodities. He has also represented clients involved in joint investigations by U.S. and UK regulators.

Ed's work frequently involves the management of civil and criminal proceedings internationally. His experience covers numerous jurisdictions and laws including England, Germany, Nigeria, Hong Kong, the PRC, Japan and key offshore financial jurisdictions (including the Cayman Islands, the British Virgin Islands and Jersey).

In addition to being admitted as a solicitor in England and Wales, Ed is also admitted as a solicitor in the British Virgin Islands.

The Legal 500 recognized Ed as being "calm under pressure, and a highly skilled litigator." Lexology Index (formerly Who's Who Legal) ranked Ed as a Future Leader in Commercial Litigation in 2023 and 2024.

Before joining Kobre & Kim, Ed practiced at Macfarlanes LLP in London.
