

John Grofik

Global Information Security Manager

NEW YORK

800 Third Avenue
New York, New York
10022
+1 212 488 1200

john.grofik@kobrekim.com

John Grofik is a global information security manager based in the firm's New York office. Mr. Grofik is responsible for securing and maintaining the firm's overall global network and security infrastructure. In addition, he is responsible for deployment, network testing, administering security appliances, implementation of anti-virus programs and technical support.

Mr. Grofik also advises the firm's clients on information protection, data security and privacy, and business continuity. Using his experience in governance and risk management, security operations, asset security and network security engineering, he executes system wide evaluations, including preventative and remote assessments, vulnerability management, antivirus protection, breach remediation and disaster recovery.

Before joining Kobre & Kim, Mr. Grofik served as an information security professional at several law firms, as well as technology and retail companies.

Mr. Grofik is a Certified Information Systems Security Professional and Certified Ethical Hacker.

Education

- Certified Information Systems Security Professional (CISSP)
- Certified Ethical Hacker
- GIAC Forensic Examiner Certification
- Certified Information Systems Auditor
- CompTIA Security +
- Stony Brook University, BE